Flying Club's latest member!

Just Flight's Flying Club X expansion for Flight Simulator X and 2004 has been widely praised by reviewers for raising the bar for GA aircraft simulations. Now, another top class light aircraft has joined the Flying Club fleet. The Piper PA-28-181 Archer III is one of the most popular General Aviation touring aircraft in the world.

Flying Club - Archer III comes with a full avionics suite and an extensive set of liveries. Virtual pilots can choose between UK, American, German, Swiss, Dutch and French registrations that provide a total of 25 aircraft variants.

The Archer III also comes with a set of unique tools to customise and enhance the flying experience and is expertly modelled to the highest standards thanks to detailed research on real-world aircraft.

All the Flying Club aircraft benefit from a dedicated website - A dedicated website at www.jfflyingclub.com where pilots can share their experiences, swap tips, download additional files, liveries and other resources to enhance the features of the Flying Club series.

Further information on this and other future Just Flights can be found in the new 'In Development' section of the Just Flight website. Click here to check out the new section.
